ABOUT US:

The Department of Ethnology and Anthropology was established in 2003. It concentrates on cultural anthropology, but it offers courses in other subfields as well. Faculty research interests span a wide range of topics including the questions of the everyday and affective spaces, language and identity, heritage sites and cultural landscapes, cultural memory, pilgrimage and tourism, popular culture and visual culture, performance and performativity, migrant community formations, race and ethnicity and public health issues.

The Departments promotes inter-departmental collaboration, as well as multiple and interdisciplinary approaches. It has established partnership with various universities around the world including Karl-Franzens University in Graz (Austria), University Ca'Foscari from Venice and University of Padua (Italy), University of Cork (Ireland), Universities of Ioannina and Thessalonica (Greece), University of Bratislava (Slovakia), University of Istanbul (Turkey) and Florida Gulf Coast University (USA). Our faculty has spent time visiting and doing research at universities in Ljubljana, Graz, Padua, Venice, Jerusalem, Malta, Benares (India), Philadelphia, Cork, Ioannina, Auckland and Melbourne. We have hosted international faculty and students from various parts of the world. In short, our Department is a vibrant and diverse community of scholars and students.

The programme in Ethnology and Anthropology offers students study of the human culture and society through theoretical concepts of cultural anthropology and ethnographic methods. Fieldwork is one of the major components of our programme, and our students are encouraged to present the results at students' and faculty symposia that may result in the publication or visual screenings of students' ethnographies. Upon completion of studies, students are able to critically reflect on the cultural diversity of our globalized world, as well as on complexities of local cultural issues. While offered topics cover the range of the area's most critical to contemporary anthropology, special focus is given to the anthropology of Southern Europe and Mediterranean.

Our graduates are found in various fields, including museums, educational institutions, government and non-government organizations.

Graduate university study programme of Ethnology and Anthropology (double major)

Duration of the study: Two-year study programme; 120 ECTS points

Admission requirements: Completed undergraduate university study programme (6th degree of the Croatian qualifications framework).

The learning outcomes of the completed master's program are:

KNOWLEDGE, UNDERSTANDING AND THE APPLICATION OF:

- broad array of anthropological theories and approaches
- research, methods and outcomes developed for the purpose of understanding cultural diversity with its continuity and change, locally and globally, and the necessity of the intercultural dialogue
- research, methods and outcomes developed for the purpose of understanding regional cultural specificities and the social and historical contexts that produced them
- research, methods and outcomes developed for the purpose of understanding of any contextual analysis related to the cultural complexity and its links to identity issues
- research, methods and outcomes developed for the purpose of understanding of various representational forms of cultural practices (texts, language, visual media, sound, oral traditions, oral histories, life stories)
- anthropological research methods in developing and carrying out independent research projects.

CRITICAL THINKING:

- analytical thinking about issues within the discipline
- evaluation of various sociocultural concepts of 'difference', such as language, ethnicity, gender, race, class, and understanding of how different practices related to these concepts inscribe social relations and subjectivities
- the ability to assess the role of cultural heritage, and it usage, in expressing and producing local, regional and national identity.

RESEARCH SKILLS AND PRESENTATIONS:

- ability to initiate, plan, and carry out small ethnographic projects
- ability to develop project presentations and reports and communicate clearly project results to various audiences
- ability to initiate and plan projects on the management of cultural heritage through participation in the internship program
- ability to apply an independent approach to knowledge and evaluate issues related to protected natural and cultural areas and design ways of working with local communities.

SKILLS LEARNED

- independent use and valorization of professional literature in Croatian and foreign languages
- independent use of contemporary communication technologies
- applying professional ethical guidelines in individual and group research and fieldwork
